PERSONAL AND IMPERSONAL

—S. P. Van Gilder, aged seventy years, and Miss Hattie Million, aged twenty years, were recently married at Jamestown, N. Y.

—Charles Moran, a ten-year-old boy living at Grass Valley, Cal., has become totally blind from getting sand in his eyes while swimming.

—A citizen of Denton, Md., aged seventy-seven, married a blushing damsel of seventeen recently, and at the reception following the ceremony danced a polka with her.—Baltimore American:

—A New York banker whose personal beauty is a negative quality is said to have won a large wager by betting that he was not the ugliest man in the metropolis and proving it by producing his son.—N. Y. Mail.

—There are two families of the name of Dodd in Bartow County, Georgia. They are not related, and interest in them arises from the fact that one of the families is composed of nine girls, while the other is made up of eight boys.

—James Armstrong, of Louisa, Can., a well-to-do farmer, aged eighty-three years, fell in love with a maiden of seventy-six summers, who rejected his suit. Thereupon he made his will, bequeathing his all to his property, and then hanged himself.

—During the past summer a young lady at a Long Branch cottage and a gentleman at one of the hotels who was not allowed to visit her, successfully carried on correspondence by means of carrier pigeons, one of which he contrived to get to her by the postman.—N. Y. Tribune:

—The golden wedding of Henry Rosnowsky and his wife Zelda was celebrated in Boston the other evening. The event is the second golden wedding among Israels ever known to have been celebrated in Boston. A procession was formed, led by twenty-seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren, in the order of seniority, and the venerable couple were escorted to a hall where religious exercises were held by Rev. Dr. Lasker.—Boston Journal:

—Mr. Carpenter, the "Carp," of the Washington regiment of winter latherwriters, being now in Dublin, sends this: "The Irish brogue coming out of the pearl teeth of a rosy-cheeked, bright-eyed Irish girl sounds very sweet indeed, and were I a millionaire American with one or two American girl babies, I would come to Ireland to raise them for the sake of their complexions. The beauties are not, however, confined to the upper classes. I saw pretty girls everywhere."

—What bothers society ladies more than anything else is to keep up with the fashion in walking. One season a lady will be expected to adopt a winning gait. At another time swinging strides will be the style. The slow walk is the ruling pace, above all personality. Nothing lasts long. If fashion decrees that a woman must make herself a perambulating convolution of millinery and dry goods, it is all right. The style must have its run.—Atlanta Constitution:

—In 1842 one thousand men formed the Old Defenders Association of Baltimore, and on September 12 of each year celebrated the battle of North Point, fought in 1812. Three years ago the association expired because the five resident members required by the constitution could not be present at the meetings. Of those one thousand men but four are alive: George Boss, aged ninety-two; James C. Morford, ninety-one; John Petticord, ninety-one, and Nathaniel Watts, ninety-one.—Baltimore Sun:

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

—Folks who live in tall houses had best not make up faces at earthquakes.—Boston Herald:

—"The single soul race!" exclaimed an old lady, as she laid down the paper. "I didn't know there was a race of men with double souls."

—We see a Virginia man has invented an "anchor for fence posts." Well, maybe such a thing is necessary. We have frequently seen buoys at gate posts.—Burdett Citizen:

—More than four thousand couples have been patented in this country, and yet there are hundreds of thousands of men and women yet un-hitched.—Washington Evening Star:

—Look at our price list in this paper. There's a six or a dozen. Our prices won't be beat. See every the largest stock of Boots and Shoes in the city. Call and see for yourself. J. H. Black & Son.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Police Scandal-Trial of Lieutenant Arnold-What the Critic Says.

The Substitute Nuisance in the Treasury Department-The California Dutches-Appropriations.

Will Not Fight-Silver Chimes-Accommodating Superiors-Recognized by the President-Roscoe Conkling.

Trial of Lieutenant Arnold-What the Critic Says.

Washington, Nov. 16.-The hearing before District Commissioner Wheatley of the charges preferred against Lieutenant Arnold, of the police force, for circulating a false and malicious report about Major Walker, chief of police, was concluded today. Lieutenant Arnold was on the stand in his own defense, and a number of his tenants of police said he thought it would be a good idea for the men doing duty south of the avenue (a locality where many disreputable houses are located) to note the names of members of Congress."

A similar statement made by the lieutenant to a New York newspaper on or after gave rise to the theory that the information obtained was to be used in influencing legislation to increase the police force, and not to the Lieutenant's trial.

The "critic" says that the trial is assuming now the importance that Congressmen now have. He also says that take great interest in it. The critic also says, "It is difficult to conceive a theory to account for the President's interest in this matter by saying, 'These are well-informed people who attribute the President's interest in the agitation to cause wholly different from any yet assigned. By then, it is clear that through the alleged surveillance of Congressmen but anything whatever to do with the increased appropriations for the police force or with the general District appropriations, but that it is intimately associated with the preparation for the extension of police power." The President's new acquisition of property in that direction, and there would be a further material advance, should the extension be accomplished. Hence, the theory that the members of Congress were to be subjected to espionage in order to secure votes for the improvement proposed. It is worthy of remark, however, that as the suggestion may seem, how many people entertain this idea."

The recently appointed government appraiser at Chicago, Francis A. Hoffman, Jr., is undecided as to whether he shall accept or not, his principal stumbling block being the salary, which is $3,000 per year. Inasmuch as his present salary as corporation counsel is just double that amount it is not likely that he will give it up to get an office worth only half as much.

The importance of a single vote is well illustrated in one of the legislative districts of New Jersey, where the Democratic candidate received 1898 votes and the Republican 1897. The election of the former makes the legislature Democratic by one, on joint ballot, and thus secures a Democrat for United States Senator. A change of one vote in that close district would have secured a Republican majority in the legislature and a Republican for United States Senator.

New York Commercial Advertiser: Other public men have been more badly treated by the press than Mr. Cleveland without making half as much fuss about it.

The California Dutches.

Washington, Nov. 16.-Secretary Manning intends to break up the abuses of the substitute system in his department, under which, heretofore, employees who were not permitted to put on substitutes to their place of work. The system, said to have been greatly abused, compelled in good health, supplying substitutes who received only a portion of the salary of the position, usually one half of it, the other half going to the regular employees. An order was issued to the department, effective, into effect to-day. There were yesterday about seventy-five substitutes at work in the department. The order will probably not be enforced with a severity that amounts to cruelty, but the cases will have to be undoubted merit where exceptions are made.

The Transcontinental Roads and the Pacific Mail.

New York, Nov. 16.-The Wall Street Ledger to-day prints the following important item in regard to the Pacific Mail subsidy:

"Have the transcontinental roads fixed upon any subsidy to offer Pacific Mail?" a representative of the Ledger asked C. P. Huntington yesterday.

"Oh, no," replied he; "what is all over?"

"Then the roads are not to pay it a subsidy again?"

"No."

"And it will have to depend on what it costs itself?"

"Yes."

"Does the Pacific Mail reached an understanding or settlement with the Panama road?"

"That is something I can not speak about with any certainty. With the relations between the Pacific Mail and transcontinental roads, I am, of course, familiar."

Standing By The Girls.

Cincinnati, Nov. 16.-The girls working at Laphorn's shoe factory, numbering twenty, are out on strike, and fourteen more have given notice. They demand a full bill of wages issued by the Hannah Powderly Assembly, Knights of Labor. The bill has gone into force at the other factories, but Mr. Laphorn asked more time to consider it. The girls said this was a protest to put them off at their old wages, but he would not, notwithstanding, make up his mind. Mr. Laphorn says the bill is so loosely constructed that it can be construed into anything. At least, he does not understand it. He has not refused to conform to it, but may adopt it if he thinks fit on mature consideration. The men warn other workers not to go there.

Wedding in High Life.

New York, Nov. 16.-Amy Hewitt, daughter of Mayor-elect A. S. Hewitt, was married yesterday to Jas. O. Greenleaf, of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The ceremony took place at Ringwood, N. J. About three hundred guests went from this city by special train. Among those present were Allen Thordene Rice, Griswold Lorillard, Mr. and Mrs. Whidbey Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Peter, Mrs. Maynard, Mrs. George Bissell, and Mrs. Peter, Mrs. E. E. Day, and many other well-known people. A feature of the occasion was the presence of many of the workmen from Mr. Hewitt's iron works.

The New Tammany Leader and the President.

New York, Nov. 16.-Mr. J. O'Donoghue, the Tammany leader who recently called upon President Cleveland, was arrested yesterday at the Tremont House to amend and alter the playing rules of the two organizations into a standard code, which it is intended shall govern the play not only of these two, but of all organizations which are under the protection of the National Agreement. The Tammany leaders appealed to the police to rally to the support of the council and protect themselves against the "floating population," as it was put, or, in other words, against the legislation of the popular body, elected by manhood suffrage. The result of the elections shows that was done, and hence the Liberal victory.

The First Case for the New York State Board of Arbitration.

New York, Nov. 16.-The State Board of Arbitration, whose members have come to this city to arbitrate for the first time between an employer and his employee, will meet to-day at French's Hotel. The case that has caused such a general stir as places for holding the annual session were also referred. A resolution asking for legislation by Congress in favor of the farmers of the country was defeated.

1. The home plate will henceforth consist of a square of white rubber instead of stone, so as to lessen the danger to players and decrease the mortality among base ball bats in the hands of the players who have a habit of rapping the plate.

2. The first and base bats will in future rest entirely upon their ground, instead of overlapping the foul lines, as heretofore, thus reducing the chances of a foul ball in deciding fair or foul bats at these points.

3. The bat may now be used in the Association as well as the League, at the discretion of the manager.

4. In order to secure a uniform size and weight in bats used in championship games, all associations, playing under the National agreement, will be required to use standard bats.

5. Every bat used in a championship game must be confined in a pasteboard box, and the box must bear the signature of the secretary of the association of which the competing clubs are members.

The rule requiring each club to place its grounds two players benches and a bat-rack for each was adopted. The pitching machine, which the pitchers' box was discontinued at, but was finally determined to postpone action until to-day. There was also a long discussion as to what restrictions should be placed on coaches. The rule adopted was that which had been in vogue in the American Association during the past year, which is to allow one coach within a limited space of space, the first or third base and prevents his going any where near the batman or catcher's lines.

It is expected a rule will be adopted to-day which will prevent a coach from being present at the game.

Took Gas, and Died.

Boston, Nov. 16.-Harry Lombard, of the firm of C. Lombard & Sons, commissioners of weights and measures, was caught in the belt and whirled around thirteen times, striking timbers above and below the shaft, and breaking his arms and legs, and otherwise mangling him about the body. He was naked when thrown off the shaft, and died in a few minutes.

A Cruel Death.

Akron, Nov. 16.-While Samuel Strode, aged nineteen, was oiling shafting when he was struck by a falling timber. He was caught in the belt and whirled around thirteen times, striking timbers above and below the shaft, and breaking his arms and legs, and otherwise mangling him about the body. He was naked when thrown off the shaft, and died in a few minutes.

The Plain City Fire.

Plain City, O., Nov. 16.-The Converse library stable and A. J. Greenbaum's stables were burned here Sunday night. Loss $1,000; no insurance.

Bondsmen Accepted.

New York, Nov. 16.-John T. Farley and Robert McCafferty have been accepted as bondsmen for ex-Alderman McCabe.

CLUB NIGHT!

A BLOODY MONSTER.

Terrible Requital of a Wife's Infidelity at the Hands of Her Betrayer.

Husband, Father, Mother, Two Children and Herself Brutally Slain by the Partner of Her Sin.

The Fiendish Murderer in the Clutches of the Law, and Liable to be Lynched.

WHITES RIVER, Ont., Nov. 16.—For some weeks past a large number of employees of the Canadian Pacific railroad have been engaged about here in preparing the track for the winter. When the work is completed there is one Richard K. O'Brien, a handsome young fellow about thirty years of age, and a general favorite among his companions. He failed from somewhere, so he said, in the maritime provinces, and had traveled to the west coast. When first engaged he was a ready, ready and anxious to return through fear of losing their places permanently.

"Arnold & Co. said yesterday that he only took back a small number of the old men and women at the packing-houses were nearly full. They said they intended to keep all the new men at work as long as they wished to remain. Many other packers say the same, but it is believed the problem of disposing of the new men will solve itself. The majority of the men are not married, and a good many of them are single. They are well-informed people who attribute the President's interest in the agitation to cause wholly different from any yet assigned. By then, it is clear that through the alleged surveillance of Congressmen but anything whatever to do with the increased appropriations for the police force or with the general District appropriations, but that it is intimately associated with the preparation for the extension of police power." The President's interest in the extension he noted, was to be used in influencing legislation to increase the police force, and not to the Lieutenant's trial.

The "critic" says that the trial is assuming now the importance that Congressmen now have. He also says that take great interest in it. The critic also says, "It is difficult to conceive a theory to account for the President's interest in this matter by saying,

The work of procuring jurors was slow.

Bernard J. Solomon, leather importer; Joshua W. Loundsbury, dry goods "drummer"; Louis A. Davis, clothing dealer; Morris Kirsh, white goods, and Jno. Dougherty, produce commission merchant, had been selected up to three o'clock.

The trial of Lt. Col. Edward S. McQuade, New York, Nov. 15.-Ex-Alderman Arthur J. McQuade, County Attorney of Bronx, was placed on trial to-day for accepting a bribe of $200 for his vote in favor of granting the Broadway railroad franchise. At ten o'clock politicians, men of leisure and business men began to besiege the doors, and soon after the court-room was filled. Salesmen to-day were more reticent than ever seen, and the jury was sent into the court-room to deliberate upon their remaining verdict.

District Attorney MacQuade, assisted by Colonel Fellows and Delancey Nicoll, conducted the prosecution. General Tracy, Wm. F. Howe, Richard Newcomb and Abe Hammann appeared on behalf of the defendant.

McQuade entered soon after the recorder and took his place before the bar. His clean-shaven and boyish-looking face wore a somewhat troubled expression, and he did not seem to be altogether at ease.

About 11:30 p. m. the clerk began to call off the names of the two hundred special jurors he had selected out of every three hundred who had been summoned.

Up to one o'clock only one juror had been obtained. The trial was suspended.

The work of procuring jurors was slow.

Bernard J. Solomon, leather importer; Joshua W. Loundsbury, dry goods "drummer"; Louis A. Davis, clothing dealer; Morris Kirsh, white goods, and Jno. Dougherty, produce commission merchant, had been selected up to three o'clock.

The trial of Lt. Col. Edward S. McQuade, New York, Nov. 15.-Ex-Alderman Arthur J. McQuade, County Attorney of Bronx, was placed on trial to-day for accepting a bribe of $200 for his vote in favor of granting the Broadway railroad franchise. At ten o'clock politicians, men of leisure and business men began to besiege the doors, and soon after the court-room was filled. Salesmen to-day were more reticent
